

Seniors and Grandchildren Staying Safe in the Modern World

Learn how to protect yourself and your grandchildren

Monday, November 25 at 1:00pm

In light of recent news, this seminar will help grandparents understand how to keep grandchildren safe in the modern world.

Presented by Ann Rodwell-Lawton, Director of Education and Training, Danbury Women's Center, this seminar will cover information about the dynamics of child sexual abuse, including warning signs, and identification.

The Women's Center of Greater Danbury is a non-profit organization with a vision to end the violence against women, men and children, to foster equality and empowerment for all.